France Believes Hitler Closes Door Of Peace

By KENNETH T. DOWNS

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Resistance by the people of France to any further expansion by Nazi Germany stiffened appreciably today as the French government, by decreeing a press and radio censorship, admitted its own belief that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler has closed the door to peace.

As evacuation of Paris proceeded speedily, publication of the letters exchanged between Hitler and Premier Edouard Daladier brought about a new firmness on the part of the average Frenchman.

He saw Daladier's attitude as a sound and honorable one, and that of Hitler as a tissue of fabrication and belligerence.

Hitler's reference to alleged Polish demands upon Germany and his general tone indicated to France that the Fuehrer is no longer seeking mere revision of the Treaty of Versailles, but that any additional German expansion would mean nothing less than German domination over Europe.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Adolf Hitler requires another three to five days to bring his army on the eastern frontier up to striking strength, according to latest information received in Paris today by the authorities entrusted with the task of learning enemy movements.

Immediately after Henderson's departure, Prime Minister Chamberlain called at Buckingham Palace and informed King George of all late developments.

The ambassador started out on his fateful mission to the German capital as Europe's frenzied preparations for war reached a breath-taking climax.

Hundreds Of Fish Killed In Shenango

Large numbers of spectators were attracted to the banks of the Shenango river in this city yesterday and today, because of the fact that hundreds of dead fish were to be seen slowly floating down the stream on top of the water.

The fish were of many varieties and of varied sizes, some quite large.

The cause of the situation has not been determined, but it is believed that some sort of acid has reached the stream north of New Castle.

The acid was apparently sulphuric, according to J. Lapere Mathews, superintendent of the New Castle Water company. It was first noted on Saturday and lasted until about three o'clock this morning, when the water cleared.

Just where the acid got into the stream and whether it was an accident or not is not known. At one time the analysis of the water at the pump station of the New Castle Water company showed 18 parts of mineral acidity.

Minnows were the first to be affected, and after them the bullheads and carp. A number of carp 18 to 20 inches long were washed up on to the shore and the loss in all kinds of fish was heavy.

Germany Speeds Preparations For Possible War

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—German preparations for eventual conflict were thrown into high gear today as the Reich government stepped up requisition of private vehicles and it became known that two-thirds of the country, geographically and numerically, has been placed on a war basis.

There has been no formal mobilization order and probably will not be one until after the outbreak of war. But throughout the day ordinary traffic in many parts of Berlin was brought to a standstill by the crush of military traffic.

Troops stationed at street corners stopped civilian motorists, confiscating their machines for the use of reservists. Rationing of food continued as the preparations went forward.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, authoritative quarters said, is certain to reject Britain's plan for direct Berlin-Warsaw negotiations, but it was still held that some likelihood exists that Hitler may pull some "new rabbit out of his hat" allowing a last-minute truce.

Petersburg Man Ends Life At Camp

William R. Ulmer Shoots Self With Rifle At Camp In Little Beaver Township

Coroner Charles Piper Byers, Corporal William Brush of the Pennsylvania motor police, and Sheriff M. M. Ingham were called to Little Beaver township Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock to investigate the fatal shooting of William Ralph Ulmer, aged 34, of Petersburg, O., who is believed to have ended his life by shooting himself through the right temple with a .22 calibre rifle.

His lifeless body was found by companions slumped at a table outside a cabin, where he had been camping with friends from Petersburg and East Palestine, O., since last Wednesday. A note was found among his effects which said not to blame any one else as he had done it himself.

Just how Ulmer rigged up the gun was not determined by the investigating officers.

The shooting took place about an eighth of a mile this side of the Ohio line along Little Beaver creek in Little Beaver township. A doctor was summoned from East Palestine who pronounced Ulmer dead, and the body was afterwards removed to East Palestine to be prepared for burial.

Coroner Byers learned that Ulmer had been in poor health and was suffering from a severe case of asthma.

Denial Of Report Of Plot On Hitler

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 28.—Frustration of a plot against the life of Chancellor Hitler on Saturday was reported in a Warsaw radio broadcast, Exchange Telegraph said today.

The German propaganda ministry in Berlin issued a denial of the rumor.

The broadcast, according to Exchange, said:

"Saturday morning the German Gestapo (secret police) discovered a plot in Berlin in which, besides military elements, members of the Reichstag and some Nazi party members were involved.

"Plans to call a meeting of the Reichstag to hear from Hitler the text of his proposals to England were abandoned, and a strong military contingent was posted near the Kroll opera house.

"The Gestapo discovered in the opera house where the Reichstag ordinarily meets complete preparations for an attempt on Hitler.

"As a result, many arrests have been made in Berlin and throughout the Reich."

Japanese Troops Cut Off Russians

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Aug. 28.—Japanese troops have cut off two Soviet-Outer Mongol army divisions in the most fierce artillery battle witnessed in the current "little war" along the Manchukuoan frontier, field dispatches said today.

Japanese aircraft destroyed or disabled 120 Soviet tanks when a large force tried to outflank the Japanese positions, the reports asserted.

For more than two years sporadic fighting has occurred on the ill-defined frontiers between Japan's Manchukuo and Outer Mongolia, which has a Soviet form of government, is allied to Moscow, and is supplied with officers and fighting equipment by the U. S. S. R.

Large-scale, but isolated, warfare broke out last spring in the vicinity of Lake Buir. Without precipitating a general conflict, the struggle was characterized by fantastic claims of great victories and immense enemy losses by both sides. Daily for about a fortnight the Japanese command claimed that from a score to 200 Soviet airplanes were shot down.

New Cabinet Being Formed As Entire Body Resigns At Tokyo

ISOLATION POLICY IS NOW PREDICTED

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Aug. 28.—With General Nobuyuki Abe, a comparative unknown, formally asked to form a new cabinet, Japan today was expected to plunge into a new foreign policy based on isolation, divorce from European entanglements, and more energetic prosecution of the war in China.

Because of the Russo-German non-aggression pact, which split up the anti-Commintern front, Baron Kichiro Hiranuma and his cabinet resigned early today.

The new situation, they explained, "needs new leaders and a new policy."

Appointment of Gen. Abe was virtually cut and dried even before the Hiranuma cabinet quit. He has the approval of the fighting forces, and, in spite of his comparative obscurity, is admired in political quarters for his administrative ability.

He was war minister for a brief time in 1928.

Dies Committee Turns Attention To Investigation Of Silver Shirts

CANNOT LOCATE WM. DUDLEY PELLEY

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Testimony on the activities of the silver shirts, an anti-Semitic organization, was begun today by the Dies committee as it announced that it had postponed examination of Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party.

Chairman Martin Dies (D) of Texas, who heads the special inquiry into subversive activities and foreign propaganda, said that Browder would be heard at a later date. He said that necessity of Browder to attend a party council in Chicago tomorrow had caused the postponement because the committee wished to keep the Communist leader on the stand several days.

Pelley Not Located
Slated to start testimony was a committee investigator who has spent several weeks inquiring into the various anti-Semitic organizations of William Dudley Pelley, Van Dyke-mustache leader of the Silver Shirts. It was the work of this investigator which led to perjury charges being recommended against Fraser Gardner, of Washington, D. C., when he attempted to obtain a job with the committee as an investigator while on Pelley's payroll.

Although the committee has made numerous attempts to serve Pelley with a subpoena so that it could put him on the witness stand, it has been unable to locate him. Numerous efforts to reach him through his office in Asheville, N. C., have proved fruitless. Meanwhile, the committee over the week-end made public the first of a series of reports on foreign war propaganda in this country. A six-page document, the report accused 10 major nations of attempting to propagandize the United States through "hundreds of agents" who have never registered with the state department as required by a 1938 law.

hill, at a speed of around five miles an hour. Several motorists pulled off to the side of the road at the foot of the hill and waited until the trucks had gotten to the top before they tried to go up themselves. It was impossible for them to pass the trucks because of oncoming traffic.

As September approaches, the merry "swish" of the corn cutter will soon be heard in the land. Corn cutting is one feature of farm work that is still done by hand on a majority of farms, at least so far as Lawrence county is concerned. Machines for cutting corn have been invented, but they have never come into general use in this section. Farmers still use their trusty blades, and carry the severed cornstalks to the shock. It is laborious work, but a good muscle developer for both arms. Lawrence county's corn crop this year will be one of the best in years.

There is some talk of having a "stop" and "go" light installed at the Harlansburg "death trap." Signs don't seem to have much effect, as there are more accidents at this crossing than anywhere else in the county. This is probably partially due to the fact that there is a large amount of travel on the Perry highway and the New Castle-Slippery Rock road. It has been particularly heavy this summer, due to the re-routing of traffic while a section of the Perry Highway has been under construction. What is really needed at Harlansburg is a "circle" with reinforced concrete walls, or an overhead crossing on one route.

Politicians say that the present campaign in Lawrence county is one of the hardest to figure out that they have ever seen. Candidates have been active, but it seems that they have failed to stir up enthusiasm to a pitch where the voters are doing much yelling for their favorites. Consequently it is hard to judge public opinion, and those who in the past have prided themselves on their ability to size up a campaign are about as much at sea as the average run-of-the-mine voter. Maybe the campaign will warm up during the next two weeks, but it's going to take a lot of matches.

Euclid avenue residents are pleased to learn that a top dressing is to be put on the stone base of the street. Since workmen left the nakedness of the street has only been hidden by a cloud of dust and residents have been too modest to sit on their front porches.

Bicycles have as much right on our streets as automobiles, but it takes a motorist with strong nerves to drive about the city and not be shocked by the narrow escapes of those who ride wheels. Two particularly dangerous practices are riding double and in droves, instead of single file. Figures compiled for last year, show that 36 bicyclists were killed and 1,402 injured in Pennsylvania. This is too high a price to pay for the pleasure that the revival of bicycling has brought. It would appear that bicycles should be included in any safety campaign for motorists.

During the past week Pa New has noticed an unusually large number of tourist cars in the city, some of them coming from as far west as California. Quite a number have been seen from Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan and other states. They appear to be heading for the big show in New York, but incidentally many of them stop overnight in New Castle. Hotel and private homes where tourists are kept are both benefitted, and the tourist money put in circulation here helps materially.

Pa New notes that out in the east a minister of the gospel was elected to the office of Chief of Police. His announced policy, in dealing with juvenile offenders, is to require them to go to church for a certain number of Sundays. All children should go to church, but there will be considerable difference of opinion as to the wisdom of sending children to attend services.

There is danger that they get the impression that church is a penal institution, instead of a place where they will be taught to become better boys and girls.

Although it seems comparatively early, robins already have their grips packed, and big flocks of them will be leaving for the south this week. Of course there will be a few stragglers, and the occasional hardy bird that prefers to winter in the North, buried deep in some friendly clump of evergreens. There are prettier birds, and much sweeter singers than robins, but somehow they hold a very warm place in our hearts, probably because they are the first harbingers of spring.

PRESIDENT AWAITS REACTION TO LATEST DEMANDS OF HITLER

visions on the Polish border number 35.

Hitler therefore, according to best military opinion in Paris, needs to move another 25 divisions east. Under the circumstances now prevailing in Germany, with all railroads and automobile transport monopolized by the army, it is estimated he could move 25 divisions totalling 375,000 men in a minimum of from three to five days.

Too Far To Retreat
The large majority of Europe is now inclined to believe that Hitler could not avoid war if he wanted to, because he has gone too far to retreat. But a minority of skeptics observe that he is obviously impressed with failure of his anticipation that the allies would collapse and surrender Poland to him after signing of the Russo-German pact.

It was this failure which induced him to ask British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson to carry his so-called new proposals to England.

But the allies did not merely fail to collapse. Over the week-end every vestige of appeasement and every suggestion of "another Munich" disappeared.

Allies Show Spirit
The allies are showing such a fighting spirit as would never have been believed possible a year ago when Hitler seemingly crushed them. Numerous unexpected signs point to the fact that the majority of people in England and France would rather go ahead and get it over now than wait and endure this nervous strain. As Leon Bailly exclaims in his newspaper Le Jour:

"Everywhere in France, people are saying it is better now to finish it once and for all while the chances favor us. Suppose we gave up Danzig, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia? We would be obliged in six or 12 months to go to battle with an enemy doubled in strength."

This sentiment is paralleled by the British public. At the same time, not only Poland, but Rumania, Turkey, Greece and Portugal are chiming a remarkable chorus against the Bolshevik-Nazi combination, while Franco Spain is withdrawing from the axis, and Japan completely withdrawn.

And observers believe they detect signs of wavering on the part of Mussolini.

The Nazis and Bolsheviks together promise to become the most unpopular group the modern world has ever known.

All these facts, it is felt here, are bound to have some effect upon Hitler, and there still exists therefore a faint and remote prospect that he might make a last minute halt.

At this 11th hour, however, such chances are valued at about one in ten.

He is at present the president of the Titusville Ministerial Association. His decision to retire from the pastorate came as a complete surprise to his congregation and was made only because of physical conditions which seemed to require it. It is understood that Dr. White expects to return to New Castle and make his home again, and rumor has it that he has already purchased a place for his residence. He will be accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Alice White, who has acted as his parsonage hostess for a number of years, and who was formerly a teacher in the New Castle schools. Her last position here was that of head teacher in the Wm. N. Aiken School on Pearson street.

become evident was awaited in Germany with keen interest.

Afternoon papers heavily played up the Hitler exchange with Premier Daladier of France, Nazi quarters insisting that Daladier misrepresented the facts, when the Frenchman insisted the Fuehrer closed the door to any mediation.

The chancellor spent another busy day conferring with key men while he awaited the return of British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson from the London cabinet meeting.

So far as can be learned Hitler is willing to stay his hand until Henderson returns, after which the Chancellor will decide on the next stage of developments.

NATURE
Anyone who wants to get in touch with things beautiful should take a morning walk out along the Narrows. Stop at the old swimming pool and think of the many barefooted boys who have swam, played and had a good time around those rocks, who have grown up and are men of the world today, and other boys following in their footsteps who do not know what part they may take in the world's destiny.

In that quiet stroll up the Neshannock it certainly causes one to realize just how insignificant man is, compared to the things that Nature can do. The rocks are still at the swimming pool and the Little Neshannock still flows on.

Girl Scouts Are Home From Camp

Return Sunday After Spending Pleasant Two-Week Period At Mercer County Camp

MERIT BADGES EARNED BY MANY

After spending one of the most pleasant cuttings in their lifetimes, some 70-odd Girl Scouts returned home Sunday from Camp Klondike, Shaw, Transfer, Pa., where the Girl Scouts of New Castle have been encamped along with others from Bessemer, New Wilmington, Ellwood City and Greenville.

Tanned by their two weeks in the outdoors, the girls presented a picture of health as they broke camp to come back to the various homes, and it was with a feeling of deep regret that they left the beautiful camp site along the Shenango river.

Saturday evening, the last night in camp, was spent with a big party for all. This was in the form of a Revolutionary ball, and the girls and counselors came dressed in all kinds of costumes. After supper, dancing was enjoyed, and there were games and songs.

One of the pleasant outings in connection with the camp was that arranged for the Gypsy unit, who went to the Pymatuning dam, where they camped out for three days, visited the museum, had sailboat rides on the lake, and enjoyed themselves in various ways. They were accompanied by Counselors Ferrol Onstott and Lillian Ward, who were presented with a gift as a remembrance of the occasion at campfire Thursday evening. An interesting account of the trip is written by Barbara Hamill.

Thursday night a midnight ceremony took place, when the girls were all banded into the Romanesque tribe of gypsies. Those inducted were Mary Louise Hamill, Gladys Gibson, Barbara Hamill, Elvira Miles, Helen Milton, Elsie Munday, Ruth Nowalk, Betty Robinson, Betty Ward, Mrs. Ferrol Onstott, Mrs. Lillian Ward, Sara Reed and "Lindy". The banding was done by Miss Betty Flagen and Miss Ruth Rorer, members of the tribe.

After the ceremony, the girls enjoyed hot cocoa and then were packed off to their warm beds. During the stay at camp many girls earned merit badges in swimming, boating, life saving, cooking and handicraft.

The Great Game Of Politics

The Nazi doctrine, it is at least matched in intensity by the popular hatred of Communism. Despite the recent Communist strategy by which its leaders proclaim themselves "liberals," identify themselves with the New Deal and shout for a Roosevelt third term, the people know that the Communist creed is as inimical to our form of government as the Nazi; that there is no essential difference between them; that they are equally ruthless, brutal and totalitarian; that individual liberty cannot exist under either; that both are abhorrent to the ideals and principles of the American system.

PAR MORE than the Nazis, the Communists strain, in subtle and dangerous ways, to undermine and destroy the foundations upon which this republic rests. To many Americans the recent efforts of England and France to affect an alliance with Russia were deeply repugnant. The only justification, of course, was the desperate need. Now that they have failed, the double-crossing game of the Communists revealed and the Nazi-Communist understanding made plain, the net effect here is to strengthen pro-

British sentiment by adding the popular resentment toward Hitler and what he stands for the popular resentment toward Stalin and what he stands for.

IT CERTAINLY has made more clear to the public mind that the really great issue is between two clashing concepts of government. Of one of these we are the most conspicuous example: under the other Americans could not find life tolerable. In such circumstances who can doubt that the faction in Congress which, last session, prevented the President from amending the Neutrality Act so as to render our material resources available to England and France, has been weakened? Should he now call a special session, there is every reason to believe public sentiment would force a prompt lifting of the embargo which now ties our hands and, in the event of war, would operate in the interests of the dictator nations and against the democracies. Lifting of that embargo might or might not mean that we would enter the war. But while we remained neutral on the surface, we would be very unneutral underneath, which, apparently, is what the country naturally, if not nobly, wants.

Report Mussolini And Hitler Seeking Parley On Poland

(International News Service) ROME, Aug. 28.—Reports, without official confirmation, were current in diplomatic quarters today that frequent exchanges between Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini are directed towards securing a four or five power conference on the Polish question.

Italian newspapers, hinting at the possibility of such a meeting, suggested that Poland might be invited to send observers to sit in with Italy, Germany, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Delay Decision On New Trial Plea

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Decision on the new trial plea for former City Solicitor Churchill Mehard was held in abeyance until the last week in September today.

During his pleading Attorney O. K. Eaton declared that Mehard will return to Pittsburgh from California "upon proper notice" of the court, even though Mehard failed to put in an appearance at today's hearing.

Eaton declared that Judge C. M. Culver of Bradford county, who was trial judge when Mehard was convicted of taking bribes in connection with Pittsburgh's $375,000 consent verdicts scandals, erred 18 times. Mehard personally saved the city more than $2,000,000, "and all the bribery charges amounted to were $11,000," Eaton declared.

because they had been paid such exorbitant sums as a dollar per day by an earlier cinema expedition. Brower was willing to pay the higher scale, but local traders objected because it might upset the labor market.

Mrs. Johnson and Brower made their first group shots of natives at Ikoma, on Lake Victoria. A number of the hardy warriors got thoroughly warmed up in war dance and unexpectedly rushed in a charge toward Sol Halperin and Sid Wagner, the camera men. With their menacing spears drawn, they let the points come within a few inches of Halperin and Wagner.

This is the savage warrior's idea of a friendly gesture. But the camera men admitted it not only frightened them almost to death but made them feel ill for days.

In addition to the care that was taken in getting realistic shots of the natives and the safari tramping through the animal jungles, the studio took pains to see that the musical scoring was authentic.

Darryl F. Zanuck sent Paul McVey into British Tanganyika and the Belgian Congo, where he studied and recorded tribal music for five months. The music of the Icombas, Masais, Kikuyus and five other African tribes matches the scenes in which each plays. For the scenes with a musical background that had to be taken in Hollywood McVey brought back a hundred native drums, ranging from sheepskin tom-toms to those hollowed out of wood.

As further evidence of the Studio's thoroughness in making the picture authentic, Captain Lloyd Morris, the noted technical advisor, made a 25,000-mile journey through Europe, Asia Minor and Northern Africa in order to carry out an extensive research. He delved into the archives of many cities, including London, Istanbul and Cairo, gathering from hundreds of dusty volumes facts about Stanley's search for Livingstone as well as valuable details about the lives of the two men, Captain Morris was well qualified for the task, because he had spent twelve years in the British Intelligence Service in Africa and the Arab countries of Asia Minor.

Newspapermen Working Under Severe Handicaps In All European Areas

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—How American newspaper correspondents in London are preparing for the worst was graphically described today in an air-mail letter received from Charles A. Smith, acting manager of the International News Service bureau in the British capital.

Written only a few days ago, the letter said in part:

"I'm battling out a few lines in order to give you some sort of a pen picture of the office and local situation after a week of crisis, with a capital 'C'."

"It's like writing my last will and testament, but put that comment down to an attack of morbidness probably caused by lack of sleep, a surfeit of bad Fleet street sandwiches and coffee, and considerable mental worry trying to get my family fixed up somewhere where the bombs may not be dropping."

"The office looks like a funeral parlor. All the windows have been painted over with black distemper, the lights are shrouded in black paint and we have stacks of black and brown paper ready to paste over all glass to prevent flying splinters."

"Add to this the fact that there are various notices stuck around warning the staff to keep their gas masks handy, instructing them how to do this and that in an air raid, and you will realize this isn't quite the bright and happy place you quit last winter."

"Communications are bloody awful. Takes an hour to contact a place even 25 miles outside London, while the continent is steadily be-days has not been able to reach us by phone and we have had to put in all the calls through here, keeping a call in almost continuously in the hope it will mature at a convenient time."

"Maybe we are to be bombed, maybe not. Anyway, we are having a great time on the greatest story for 25 years. You can bet I'm determined to stick it out until we are driven out."

Throng Attends Church Outing

St. John Roman Catholic Church Has Successful Affair At Willow Grove

After mass at 10 o'clock Sunday morning in St. John the Baptist Syrian Maronite (Roman Catholic) church, the members and their friends went to Willow Grove for a great outing which was a huge success and will be long remembered.

Around 1,000 people were present for the outing, including many from Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Youngstown, Beaver Falls, Uniontown and Rochester, in addition to New Castle and vicinity.

Rev. Fr. Elias Nader, pastor of the church, was in charge of the program of the day, assisted by the church committee and parishioners.

The program included an old fashioned sing and dance music throughout the day; and the awarding of prizes to the following people: first, Nora George of 1116 South Jefferson street; second, Mary Jacob, of 1207 Moravia street; and third, K. Kilbreath, of 417 Northview avenue.

Father Nader thanked all those who attended and helped make the day a success.

Local Troop Has Dedication For New Camp Sunday

Group Of 150 From Local District Attends Ceremony At Clear Creek Park

Boy Scouts of Troop 3, sponsored by the John P. Lockhart Bible class of the First United Presbyterian church, held formal dedication services for their new camp Sunday.

Camp Clearhawk, as it is known, is located in Clear Creek State Park, near Brookville, Pa.

There were about 150 persons, including Scouts, parents and friends from the New Castle District, gathered to witness the ceremony, Sunday afternoon. Scoutmaster E. D. Hawk, opened the program and immediately turned it over to Dr. Burr Rodgers, chairman of the troop committee.

Rodgers introduced the following members of the troop committee: Elmer Nesbitt, Dr. A. H. Borland, Elmer Gerlach and George Morrow. Scoutmaster Hawk, in a well chosen talk, thanked all those who had a hand in making this camp a success.

State Forest Ranger Robinson gave a short address and praised the work of Scoutmaster Hawk and his boys. Rev. S. E. Irvine was the principal speaker of the day, and he delivered an appropriate talk to the boys. Rev. Irvine also introduced one of the fathers, Mr. Swartz who presented a gift, on behalf of the fathers, to Scoutmaster Hawk.

Upon entering the large camp building, an impressive campfire ceremony was held with the following Eagle Scouts taking part: Scoutmaster, E. D. Hawk, Roger Hawk, Lester Raub, Donald Gibson, Robert Back and Howard Snyder. Scout oath and Scoutmasters' Benediction brought the event to a close. A delicious picnic supper was served during the evening hours.

Pennsylvania Plants Big Factor In War Needs

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—A world war involving the United States would put 1,431 Pennsylvania industrial establishments to work turning out munitions for use at the front.

The War Department is not making public the names of the Pennsylvania plants embraced by the industrial mobilization plan, but certainly some of them may be found in the New Castle area, joining as it does the great Pittsburgh metropolitan center.

The War Department, according to Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, has selected 10,000 plants throughout the country which will be called upon to produce munitions in time of war. Of these, more than 4,000 are located in the area that extends from Boston to Wilmington, Del., and west to Pittsburgh. Pennsylvania leads in number of such plants, with 1,431, followed by New York with 1,101. Delaware has 29, Rhode Island 148, New Jersey 42, Massachusetts 711 and Connecticut 349.

This small territorial belt, according to Colonel Johnson, "is the life-line of America." He says that "more than 60 per cent of our war needs for munitions will have to be manufactured in this congested area."

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The heart must work day and night, never ceasing. Generally the child's heart stands the strain.

Heart disease is not confined to worn out business men. Many thousands of children are victims of this condition.

Heart trouble often follows tonsillitis or complicating rheumatic fever.

Most common heart disease in children is known as "rheumatic heart."

Infectious diseases are a source of danger to the heart.

Poverty, overcrowding and underfeeding promote such cases.

As does exposure to wet, cold changeable weather.

The delicate valves of the child's heart become involved.

He should be protected against fatigue and malnutrition.

A sick child's delicate heart should be ever guarded.

State Holders Of HOLC Loans Slow Redeeming

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—Borrowers from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation are not redeeming their homes as rapidly in Pennsylvania as most states, according to figures made public today by the HOLC.

That agency saved a total of 58,796 homes from foreclosure in the Keystone state by advancing mortgage loans. Up to June 30, a total of 2,490 of these homes had been redeemed and were safely back in the owners' possession by full payment of the HOLC loans. The 2,490 redeemed represented 42 per cent of the total on which loans had been made.

In the country as a whole, on the other hand, 52 per cent of all HOLC loans had been fully paid off thru the last day of June. The ratio of redemptions was particularly high in some dozen states. In Nevada, for example, 147 per cent of HOLC borrowers had completely liquidated their loans. Wyoming came second with 117 per cent.

The 58,796 HOLC loans made in Pennsylvania totaled $167,014,200. The 2,490 which had been completely paid off June 30 aggregated $5,860,754.

POLAND REPORTS BORDER ATTACKS

Polish Populace Goes Speedily
About Task Of Mobilizing For War

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Aug. 28.—More border attacks by Germans were reported today as the popular mood went calmly but speedily about the task of mobilizing for war, and officialdom again voiced its determination to fight Germany in case of an attack.

"Conversations between Germany and England or Germany and France are matters concerning those countries alone," said the foreign office spokesman, "but we are being kept informed of these negotiations."

"If war should come, we do not think we shall have to fight alone." Diplomatic developments over the week-end have not relieved tension, the foreign office held.

"Continued incidents along the Polish frontier show that the Germans are determined on aggression." Among the incidents alleged by the foreign office and press were these:

An armed German party attacked a Polish factory at Lignozna, near Szygowski in upper Silesia, penetrating Polish territory 1000 yards and throwing bombs.

The attack was repulsed by a Polish military patrol reinforced by a platoon of citizens and militiamen.

German police said another charge, surrounded the Polish consular building at Marienwerder, East Prussia, and cut the telephone and telegraph wires. German secret police agents raided the Polish secondary school at Marienwerder and arrested the teachers and students, who were driven off in trucks to an unknown destination. It was asserted.

NEW CASTLE TEACHER LOSES COURT SUIT

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 28.—Frances T. Weitzel, New Castle, art teacher in the Allegheny public schools, lost her fight to force the Allegheny school district to give her a 15 per cent increase in salary given other teachers in 1937-38.

In an opinion handed down by Judge Henry H. Wilson, the suit was dismissed and the teacher was directed to pay costs.

The opinion stated that the evidence was contrary to her statement of suit in that she signed a contract at her former salary of $1,800 before she knew other teachers had been given an increase.

She has taught in the Allegheny schools for 11 years.

If you want to get a loan for less, this advertisement contains an important message for you.

Savings you can make Rates on Household Finance loans have been substantially reduced. Here are examples of the savings that hundreds of people are now making at Household Finance.

A loan of $50, repayable in 10 equal monthly installments, for instance, costs $8.62 at the lawful maximum rate. At Household you save $1.49. Or take a loan of $100 repayable in 12 equal monthly installments. The cost of your loan at the lawful maximum rate is $20.55. At Household you pay $3.57 less, a saving of almost one-fifth!

One rate to everyone
Everyone who borrows at Household makes these savings, whether a new customer or a former borrower.

Pick your own payment plan
Suppose you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.75 a month. Twelve payments of this amount will repay your loan in full, including charges. And to get your Household loan you need no co-makers or endorser.

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. (Household also makes loans for other amounts.) Note that you can make very small payments if you prefer. Or you can pay larger in-

Dr. Daffoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WHIPPING NOT NEEDED IN TRAINING A CHILD

Almost every week I get letters asking me if it is true that the Quintuplets have never been whipped; that we have trained them to be well-behaved. Well, that is true, but people are hard to convince. At least some of them are, for some still belong to the old "spare the rod and spoil the child" school of thought.

I am firmly convinced that children can be brought up without whipping. There are other and I think better ways of disciplining children. I have seen children who were models of behavior who I have known some of the worst little miscreants who were spanked regularly.

We must think of behavior under two separate heads. First comes the usual routine of the child's day. Does he dress himself in the morning? Does he go to the bathroom when he should? Does he eat properly? Has he formed the routines you have, or should have, been teaching him?

These are the parts of a child's training for which you parents are directly responsible. If he fails in these things, then you as parents are at fault.

The other aspect of behavior is when the child does something which he quite distinctly knows is wrong. For instance the child who has been solemnly warned that he must not run across the street, so he crosses in spite of his warnings. Once he has done this and gotten away with it he will repeat unless something is done to draw attention to the fact that he has done wrong.

So every child has to be punished from time to time to make him realize that he just can't break the laws laid down for him without paying the penalty.

Now I don't intend to go very far into the subject of spankings. To a great many people, punishment and spanking mean the same thing. There may be times when only a spanking will achieve the desired result, but all I can say is that I haven't come in contact with many children who couldn't be controlled by other means.

Try making the child do something he doesn't like to do, or deprive him of something he wants very much. And be sure to let him see that this penalty inflicted upon him is the direct result of his disobedient act.

Our experiment with the Dionne Quintuplets has been very interesting. They have never been spanked or slapped. But when a little Quint is disobedient — and they frequently are — we put her in the isolation room. That is all we ever need to do, for when they are together all the time and to be separated for awhile is a real punishment, as the culprit can hear the other little girls laughing and playing and she can't take part in it.

It so happens that this punishment of solitary confinement works with the Quintuplets. Now this might not work with some other child. But there are many ways a child can be disciplined. I have known children to be more impressed by being sent to bed supperless than by a spanking, but I don't recommend this.

Red Cross Aids Families Of Men Killed In Mines

Fund Is Established To Aid
Families Of Men Killed In Kentucky Mines

During the month of July in Providence, Ky., a mine explosion killed twenty-five men. A. C. McCready co-chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter, Disaster Relief Preparedness Committee has received word that a maintenance fund has been established by the American Red Cross to care for the families of these men. Monthly maintenance payments will be made to the widows on the basis of individual needs. He explained that the Red Cross considers the loss of a person's source of income through disaster on the same grounds as the loss of a dwelling or essential household goods and clothing.

The miners who lost their lives were not covered by workers compensation insurance.

"This is the first maintenance fund for mine disaster widows to be set up by the Red Cross in several years," said Mr. McCready. In recent years many states have passed legislation creating compulsory insurance for the protection of miners' wives and children.

NOTHING WRONG WITH APPETITES OF STATE HOSPITAL PATIENTS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—Patients in Pennsylvania's nine state mental hospitals have normal, healthy appetites, and decided food likes and dislikes, Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeney disclosed.

The 23,477 wards have fish once, and meat three times a week, and each daily consumes four pounds and 10½ ounces of food around the calendar, at 2444 per capita per day.

Most have seemingly insatiable desires for pastry and pie; coffee is preferred, and many would drink all the milk offered.

U. S. Not In Favor Of Four-Power Parley On Poland's Future

Believe Poland Should Have Say

Four Power Parley Reported As Proposal By Premier Mussolini

NO OFFICIAL WORD RECEIVED BY U. S.

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The United States government looks with disfavor on a four-power conference to settle the Polish-German controversy, it was learned today in official quarters.

Dispatches from Europe reported that Premier Mussolini of Italy had submitted an eleventh hour compromise proposal to the British cabinet containing the suggestion for a four-power conference.

This conference would be between Italy, Germany, France and Great Britain and its deliberations would at least temporarily reach some peaceful solution concerning the fate of Poland.

Believes Poland Should Be In Parley

While American state department spokesmen insisted they had received no official word of the Mussolini plan, the opinion expressed in diplomatic circles is that the United States government feels that Poland should have a seat at any council that debates its future.

At the same time, an official of the Polish embassy expressed the belief that his country would never accede to Mussolini's reported conference proposal unless Poland is given an equal voice in the deliberations.

State department officials pointed to President Roosevelt's peace appeals to Chancellor Hitler of Germany and President Moscicki of Poland.

land, as further evidence of the official American attitude on proposals such as advanced by Il Duce. In these appeals, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that the sovereign rights of Poland should be respected in any peace negotiations. Poland and Germany being sovereign governments, the president said, each nation should accord "complete respect to the independence and territorial integrity of the other."

The best method of effecting a settlement of the dispute, Mr. Roosevelt added, is through direct negotiation, arbitration or through conciliation on the part of a neutral.

Army Bomber At Airport Attracts Crowd On Sunday

James Wilson Of Ellwood City Brings Huge Ship Here From Georgia

Flying from his home base at Fort Benning, Georgia, in but three and one-half hours, James Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, of Ellwood City, landed a huge United States Army Martin B-10-B bombing plane at the New Castle Airport, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Large crowds flocked about the huge flying machine all day Sunday.

Wilson, who is a graduate of West Point, and at present a First Lieutenant in the Army, flew the huge ship alone. The ship when fully manned carries a crew of about five persons. Passenger space is greatly limited by many instruments, carried for aerial combat.

Bringing the bomber down at the local airport, gave the new runway a fine test. According to Wilson, it required nearly the entire length of one runway to land the plane.

First Lieutenant Wilson plans to remain with his parents and Mrs. Wilson and son Jimmy, in Ellwood City until Tuesday morning, when he will hop in the plane at the airport to return to Fort Benning. He is scheduled to fly to Florida, shortly after his return on Tuesday.

Highway Workers Dig Test Holes

Seek To Determine Exact Location Of Stone Cap For Bridge Foundations

In an effort to locate the stone cap upon which the supports for the new Harris bridge will rest, workers of the highway department have been digging test holes for the past several days along the Slippery Rock creek near the site of the old bridge, washed out two years ago.

Apparently the south support of the bridge will be located some 200 feet west of the old support, thus putting the bridge across the creek at such an angle that motorists will not be in danger.

Council Plans More Projects

Solicitor Directed To Prepare Ordinances For More W. P. A. Jobs

REPORT $453,673 ALLOTTED BY U. S.

During council meeting in the city building today Mayor Charles E. McGrath advised colleagues he had received a letter from Congressman Louis E. Graham, which stated the federal government has approved an allotment of $453,673 for city-WPA projects. Official advice, however, have not yet been received.

The city would be required to appropriate a considerable sum to augment the federal fund for the proposed projects, which may require two years time to complete, it was said by council.

After Congressman Graham's letter was read Councilman J. D. Alexander introduced a motion authorizing the city solicitor to draft an ordinance providing for the city-WPA projects.

Proposed projects consist of the E. paving program, Scott street storm sewer, Neal street grading, North street storm sewer and construction of sidewalks throughout the city.

Following passage of the motion Councilman Alexander introduced another ordinance authorizing the city solicitor to draft ordinances specifically calling for certain projects and as follows:

Paving of Sumner avenue between Highland and Delaware avenues, Bluff street between Etna street and the city line, Elizabeth street between Albert street and Highland avenue, Waldo street between Grimes street and Belmont avenue, and North Jefferson street between Wilmington avenue and the city line. It will be necessary to do sewer work prior to paving in North Jefferson and Etna streets, it was stated.

Prior to the motions Alexander submitted and which council adopted, the solons adopted a motion presented by Councilman W. H. Dunlap authorizing the city solicitor to prepare an ordinance for the improvement of the Big Run.

Will Ask More County Aid For W.P.A. Projects

City of New Castle officials today received from Governor Arthur H. James a letter in which the state's chief executive requested the co-operation of the city in sponsoring projects which would result in an increase of WPA employment.

At the suggestion of Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Councilman J. Leon Fink made reply to the governor, to the effect that the city has for six years been availing itself, so far as financial conditions allowed, to sponsor projects in order to keep men at work.

Arthur Johnson of the CIO said the organization would like to know how many men the projects will employ, so that the Lawrence county commissioners will be asked what they propose doing to help take up the employment slack here. He said the unemployment problem was one, not only for council and the commissioners, but everyone in the city to consider and to co-operate.

Johnson spoke because a letter from the PWA office in Washington had said that should projects be furnished here, the employment quota would be increased.

Councilman J. D. Alexander said that some projects were under-manned. Mayor Charles E. McGrath said that before the airport work got under way a promise was made that 600 men would be employed there. The mayor said the most at any one time was 90.

The city today received unofficial advice that government has allotted $453,163 as its share for projects contemplated here.

United States Working Alone In Peace Moves

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The United States is standing alone in the world crisis and acting independently in its efforts to preserve the peace of Europe, it was made clear by Secretary of State Hull today.

Various peace appeals by President Roosevelt have been undertaken without previous consultation with any foreign government, Secretary Hull asserted.

The conversations held between American diplomatic representatives abroad and various foreign government officials have been purely for exchange of information, he added. It was natural that during these conversations foreign officials would question American representatives concerning the attitude and the steps contemplated by the United States government, Hull explained.

Nevertheless, no foreign government has requested any advice from the United States, Hull insisted. At the same time, he said he knew of no proposal to call upon western hemisphere nations for a united peace appeal.

Sermon Lecture In Coaltown Methodist Tent This Evening

Evangelist McKay last night under the big tent on the Highland Heights road, delivered a sermon on "The Sin Against the Holy Ghost". This sin, declared the Illinois evangelist, does not consist in some solitary act but rather in a series of deliberate transgressions rashly persisted in against light and truth.

Tonight Rev. McKay will give a sermon lecture entitled "Where Are the Dead?" Bible scholars in many cities have endorsed this sermon as a masterpiece. Rev. McKay is preaching each evening this week, also each afternoon at 2:30 with the exception of Monday and Saturday.

DON'T HAVE PROPERTY RIGHTS IN LICENSE

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 28.—By a decision handed down by Judge Lee A. McCracken, a group of Oil City men, holders of restaurant and beer licenses, and several clubs lost their fight to prevent a vote on local operation in Oil City in the September 12 primaries.

The court declared that the possession of licenses did not indicate that they had any property rights in those licenses, and that the petitions aimed to prevent the vote was not brought as taxpayers, but as license holders.

High Gridders Commence Camp

Thirty-Three Young Huskies Start Daily Workouts At Camp At Muddy Creek Falls

WILL BE BACK SATURDAY NOON

The New Castle high school football team is firmly entrenched today at the football camp at Muddy Creek Falls. The first workout occurred shortly after 9:30 o'clock this morning not long after the boys reached the camp site.

There are 33 young huskies in camp. There are about 16 or 17 veterans from last year on hand the rest being rather new to the grid game or have just come up from Mahoningtown, Franklin or Washington high.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh stressed upon the boys the importance of hard work in camp. There is not much time to get ready for the opening game September 15 with Butler high. Two stiff workouts each day this week should toughen up the boys and help them to get the kinks out of their muscles.

Three good meals a day also will serve to put weight on the boys (not Bob Stewart) the eatings school custodian in New Castle, but Scouts Nelson, rotund Faculty Manager, and Bill Klee don't do so bad either, when it comes to putting away the good grub that always graces the football training table. The annual eating contest is on to see who can pack the most away.

The afternoon session gets under way about 1:30 o'clock or 2 o'clock and lasts until 5 and sometimes 5:30 or 6 o'clock.

Sports World Ramblings

Diamond snapshots—Thrill department. The St. Looney Brownies save the best of at least a dozen pellets per tussle when they perform in Sportsman's Park. Before the turnstiles are opened to the public, the management closes the upper tier unless there is a fairly large crowd, which is seldom the case. This invention prevents fans from scrambling for foul balls. . . . Jack Doyle, the Manhattan betting czar, has reopened the ledger on the Cincy Reds. The book on the Yanks was sealed ages ago and will remain that way. . . . Tony Galento and a friend of his recently bumped into Roger Hornsby, the former great of baseball, Tony-Poly at the "mike": "This big bum," introducing the former swatman, "always was my favorite big league pitcher." . . . It is gratifying to learn that Connie Mack, the 77-year-old pilot of the Athletics will be at his post again on Labor Day. Now that Connie is convalescing, it is too bad that he will have to sit and watch his proteges play the Yankees twice on the same afternoon. A good way to recuperate, eh?

A bit of everything—Henery Armstrong will appear before the lens for a light short as soon as his peepers and cut lip heal. One of the better know comedians, Lou Holtz, lost $10,000 on Armstrong, according to Eddie (A. P.) Brietz. This represents the single biggest chunk of cabbage dropped on the scrap. . . . Arthur Donovan's foul calling episode put him on the spot. Now that Eddie Mead has quit following, Joe Jacobs and Tony Galento have stepped to the "mike". Donovan is in Jacobs' and Galento's doghouse. They want no part of him in the Nova shindig. Why? Tony isn't figuring on being rough, is he? . . . Friday, August 25 was the start for some 865 high schools to start their football activities. The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association numbers that many members. . . .

Nova Worried Over His Bout With Galento

Braddock Watches Nova Workout, Would Rather Meet Louis Again Than Galento

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28.—You wouldn't suppose that anybody who had ever sampled the thundering iron fists of Champion Joe Louis would prefer to meet him again rather than Tony Galento, would you?

And yet that is exactly what Jim Braddock told us in all sincerity today as he watched Lou Nova working out for his approaching battle with the human beer barrel, September 7 at Philadelphia.

"On the level," said Jim, "that Galento is an impossible guy to fight. He never knows what he's going to do himself, so how can any opponent figure him out?"

Nova Is Worried
"Don't ever underestimate him. He's the kind of a guy who is liable to lick a far better fighter than he is any time he steps into the ring."

And here's why. He's so short, a big fellow like Louis or Nova or myself has to punch down at him and you can't get a clean shot at his chin."

We then asked Nova for his slant at Galento.

"I'm really worried about this fight," said the big Californian. "I have no doubt about winning, you understand it, but I'm sincerely afraid I may cause him a serious injury."

"You see, Tony cuts about the eyes so easily, it would be easy to blind him permanently and I'd never get over it if that were to happen. That's why I'm determined to knock him out quicker than Joe Louis did."

South Sider Defeats Allan Morrow In Three Hours And Half Battle

DOUBLES TITLE AT STAKE TODAY

In an exciting match that lasted three hours and a half, Al Jones lanky south sider, copped his second consecutive tennis singles championship, defeating Allan Morrow, Saturday afternoon at Glenmore court, before a large gallery.

For a while it looked like an easy triumph for Jones. Morrow dropped the first two sets, 6-2 and 6-4. Suddenly, the tide changed. Morrow grabbed the third set 5-7 and surprised the gallery by winning the fourth, 6-8. Jones copped the deciding set by a 7-5 margin. The finalists played cautiously all afternoon, lobbing from back line to back line. In 1938 Jones won his first New Castle championship by defeating the same opponent, Mike Kulich, Sam Byers and Dr. Eigner served as umpires.

The length of the match forced officials to postpone doubles finals until today. Harold Baer-Joe McPate face Lou Guntion-Al Jones for the doubles title at Glenmore court, starting at 4 o'clock.

Denny Allhouse today announced that a junior and mixed doubles tournament will be staged. Entries are being received at the Sporting Goods store.

Victims of Another War

With all Europe aflame, this picture becomes even more tragic. The French liner Winnipeg is shown going through the Panama Canal on the way to Chili with a cargo of refugees. More than two thousand persons were jammed into holds, on decks and other corners of the ship, Spaniards who fled to France from the Franco regime. Typhoid was reported.

Children Removed From Plane-Threatened Areas

Though statesmen toil ceaselessly toward averting a European war, frantic parents in London, Berlin and other threatened European capitals and areas continue to send or take their offspring out of metropolitan areas to the much safer rural districts. Top photo shows a trainload of youngsters about to leave London for safe refuges in a distant countryside. Lower photo shows a German family which had resided in Poland trudging across the East Prussian border carrying their few belongings. Note the small children bringing up the rear of this tragic procession.

2. Doors should be varnished and repaired, too.
3. Windows might need new frames and screens.

4-H BOYS ATTEND CLUB WEEK

Ten boys representing the Agricultural 4-H Clubs of Lawrence County attended the annual 4-H Club Week, held at the Pennsylvania State College, from August 16 to 19.

Club Week is an annual event looked forward to by 4-H Club members. It gives them an opportunity to meet young people from all parts of the State, to hear of an educational and of a recreational nature, educational speakers, and programs given by 4-H Club members are always on the program.

The ten boys that returned from the 1939 Club Week were: Willard Patton, Hickory Township; Russell Perschke and John Wilson, Slippery Rock Township; Allen Miller, Jr., and Joseph Corvey, Wilmington Township; Wayne McAnis, Big Beaver Township; Wilbur McCurley and Howard Gwin, North Beaver Township; Reed Miller, Pulaski Township; and Joseph Walton, Wayne Township. Mr. Allen Miller, Sr., of Wilmington Township accompanied the boys as a local leader.

Robert Walton, Wayne Township and Robert Moore, Wilmington Township were present at a Leadership Conference held at the Pennsylvania State College from August 14 to 19. This conference is open only to young men and women who have completed three years of 4-H Club work and have shown evidence of being leaders in their Clubs.

BUY RAMS NOW IF YOU WANT TO GET THE BEST

Farmers raising the best flocks of sheep buy their rams early. It is only natural for them to select the best.

By buying a ram early it is usually easier to secure an animal that better meets the requirements. Also, if the ram is purchased early, he becomes accustomed to his new surroundings before the breeding season.

An old sheepman recently expressed his ideas on the value of a ram in a very practical statement.

"I am going to keep 40 ewes in my breeding flock, and I'll be rather critical of the type of ram I use because every lamb he sires will carry 50 per cent of his blood. For that reason, I consider my ram 40 times as important as any single ewe in the flock."

Good, thick, heavy boned rams of any breed will soon pay for themselves in the improvement of their off spring. To get the best, selection must be made soon.

FALL-PLANTED BULBS FOR SPRING BLOSSOMS

Now is the time to peruse catalogs and make selections of bulbs for fall planting.

Be reluctant about buying cheap or bargain bulbs. In many instances they are a second-grade product as culls. Tulips, narcissus and daffodils planted this fall will brighten the early spring garden and deserve a place in any planting scheme, no matter how small or large the garden.

The selection at this time of the year is advisable for the evergreen which will be used as a living Christmas tree to adorn the front yard. This tree may also be used as a feeding station for birds during the winter.

Another item for the fall calendar is to check perennials and shrubs and make arrangements for replacement next spring. Seeds of many annuals can be collected from the flower garden, placed in envelopes properly labeled and filed, for use next year.

REINFORCE TREES TO HOLD UP HEAVY LOAD OF FRUIT

Many apple trees in Lawrence County require bracing to prevent their breaking under the heavy load of fruit, although this is not an ideal season for the work.

It would have been much easier to do the work before the weight of the fruit spread the tree. However, if it has not been done earlier, it will be much easier and more profitable to brace the tree now than repair it later. It is impossible, in many cases, to repair a split tree, which often results in a considerable loss.

The use of heavy screw-eyes or bolts and smooth heavy No. 9 wire is one of the best ways of reinforcing a heavily loaded tree. The screw-eye or bolts are put into the limbs about one-third of the distance from the crotch to the tip of the limb. Large trees must be braced higher than small ones. Wire is run from one limb through the center of the tree to a limb on the opposite side. A heavy iron ring may be used in

NATIONAL COUNTRY LIFE MEETING AT PENN STATE

"What's ahead for Rural America?" has been announced as the general theme of the 22nd annual meeting of the American Country Life Association at the Pennsylvania State College, August 30-September 2.

Prominent educators, farm leaders and business men from all sections of the country will appear on the program which will attract hundreds of delegates from every State. Chris L. Christensen, dean of the college of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, is president of the Association.

Grant Wood of Iowa and John Stuart Curry of Wisconsin, outstanding artists on rural life, will appear on the program. Many of their best paintings will be on exhibit. Caroline B. Sherman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will speak on the "Literature of Rural Life." Slides of many well-known paintings of American farm life will be shown.

"What's Ahead in the Relation of the Farm Group to Labor and Industry," "The Important Issues Before the Nation," "Education as a Continuing Process," and "How Can We Develop a Resident Farm and Village Leadership for Continuing Education," are but a few of the topics to be discussed during the course of the 4-day national gathering.

MEDALS WON BY LAWRENCE COUNTY GIRLS

Marie Book of the Harlansburg 4H Club won a gold medal for a wool street dress of third year work and Virginia Rudzik of Pulaski club won a silver medal on a cotton school dress of second year work when they attended the 4-H Club Week program at State College August 16 to 19.

The dresses were judged for workmanship, selection of color and design suitable to the individual, as well as the accessories which were chosen to wear with the outfit. Dresses were judged on the girls to include general appearance. Merit placings were awarded to ranking 10 per cent of the group. There were 27 entries in the street dress group and 19 in the school dress group. Competition was very high as entries are made from the various counties in the State.

FIT CHILD WITH HEALTH FOR COMING SCHOOL DAYS

Already children are beginning the parade "back home" coming from camps, from farms, and from other vacation spots. All too soon vacation will be a thing of the past and children once more will begin their long important year of education. Will your child be ready?

Vacation affords the child a chance to develop his body, build new muscular skill, gather new experiences, and gain greater courage. With the first day of school the outlook changes. It is likely to mean early rising, long trips to and from school, hurried meals and many new burdens.

Miss Julia Markle home economics extension representative, of Lawrence county suggest that in order to forestall any ill effects resulting from the new schedule, parents must aid in promoting sound health habits in their children.

It is best to begin working out the school schedule a week or two in advance of the actual opening.

7 E. WASHINGTON ST.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Reports from field men working on the Federal State project for the control of black stem rust of cereals indicate very slight rust damage to these crops this year.

The dry, hot weather, during mid-season has been unfavorable to the development of the disease. In certain isolated areas where barberries—the alternate host of stem rust—have not been destroyed and where there was a fair amount of rain, some loss occurred to wheat and oats, but nothing to compare with that of recent years in similar localities.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—A civil service system in Pennsylvania devoid of politics is the aim of the Employment Board for the Department of Public Assistance, members said today.

"When we were appointed by Governor James to administer the work of this board," the members said, "we promised to carry on our duties without regard to political considerations."

"That thought has motivated us since the day of our appointment and we are determined to carry out the governor's wishes."

"At best, it is extremely difficult to administer civil service employments without the cry of 'politics' being raised, human nature being what it is. When a person fails to qualify for a job, or is dismissed because he cannot do the work, he is much more likely to blame 'politics' than he is to admit to his friends and relatives that he has failed. Taking a crack at the civil service set-up is his alibi."

Members of the Employment Board are Charles Denby of Pittsburgh, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell of Mifflintown, secretary, and William Potter Wear of Penryn.

Department Of Public Assistance Sets High Ideals For Department

GOVERNOR'S WISH TO BE CARRIED OUT

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—A civil service system in Pennsylvania devoid of politics is the aim of the Employment Board for the Department of Public Assistance, members said today.

"When we were appointed by Governor James to administer the work of this board," the members said, "we promised to carry on our duties without regard to political considerations."

"That thought has motivated us since the day of our appointment and we are determined to carry out the governor's wishes."

"At best, it is extremely difficult to administer civil service employments without the cry of 'politics' being raised, human nature being what it is. When a person fails to qualify for a job, or is dismissed because he cannot do the work, he is much more likely to blame 'politics' than he is to admit to his friends and relatives that he has failed. Taking a crack at the civil service set-up is his alibi."

Members of the Employment Board are Charles Denby of Pittsburgh, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell of Mifflintown, secretary, and William Potter Wear of Penryn.

New Car Models Ease Eye Strain

Safety Glass Found To Suffer Greater Eye Strain And Nervousness

(International News Service)
TOLEDO, O.—Automobile editors from 100 cities were told here recently that the 1940 car models are being designed to prevent "car sickness."

Most of the persons who experience discomfort from riding in the seat of an automobile suffer from eye strain caused by distortion in the sheet glass side windows. Dr. A. H. Ryan, Chicago physiologist said.

Tests show that passengers looking through safety sheet glass suffer 62 per cent more eye strain and nervous exhaustion," Ryan said. "than looking through safety plate glass. This distortion induces nausea, headaches and fatigue and may cause permanent eye defects."

"Plate glass in automobile window with proper illumination, eye-glasses and other factors aid in the preservation of eyesight. Plate glass all around in the 1940 models will be a long step forward in insuring health and comfort to motorists," he added.

LITTLE DAMAGE FROM RUST TO OATS, WHEAT

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Reports from field men working on the Federal State project for the control of black stem rust of cereals indicate very slight rust damage to these crops this year.

The dry, hot weather, during mid-season has been unfavorable to the development of the disease. In certain isolated areas where barberries—the alternate host of stem rust—have not been destroyed and where there was a fair amount of rain, some loss occurred to wheat and oats, but nothing to compare with that of recent years in similar localities.

Balanced Diet For State Institutions Now Being Studied

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeney is arranging a scientific inquiry into whether or not patients and inmates of state welfare institutions are getting sufficient vitamins.

Pennsylvania State College scientists, with the aid of delicately calibrated instruments and other laboratory "gadgets" will actually "look into the chemical composition of a cross section of the institutional population to ascertain the vitamin counts."

"Menus then will be adjusted by dropping excessive A's, adding more B's, and so on, as lenses, plates, or verniers might indicate necessary," the welfare secretary said.

Editor, New Castle News, North Mercer street, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The reunion and picnic of all Catholic parishes of Lawrence county at Cascade Park, August 23rd, 1939, was a great success.

The untiring efforts of the committees could not have achieved this great success if it were not for the kindness and cooperation of the New Castle News and the staff.

The publicity and space afforded us through the principal medium available in our community, was very generous, therefore, it is the desire of the committees at this time to thank you and we deeply appreciate all that had been done toward the success of the day.

Sincerely,

BERNARD N. HANLON.
